Reflections

*"The ecology of the natural world inspires us to explore the ecology of our soul."
Linda Taylor from the Introduction of GWEN.*

As I celebrate the 14th year of ION on this 40th anniversary of Earth Day, I must reflect on the people and experiences that have helped me travel this path for so long.

So many encourage me each day as I journey this life calling that I have named It's Our Nature. This year has been the most difficult economically and physically, but at the same time it is filled with an awareness of how we are re-evaluating our lives. We must live our personal and professional lives in a more sustainable fashion. I know that as much as I thought I was .... there are creative and fun ways to be even friendlier to our dear Mother Earth.

From the depth of my heart and soul, I thank each one of you who is reading this and the scores who have had the briefest encounter with me as I work in my mobile marketplace. You make my life richer by allowing me to grow and learn.

Happy Earth Day to you all and may we celebrate Earth Day each day sustaining ourselves in a life of simplicity and beauty. ~Linda

Great Women Exploring Nature by Linda Taylor

ION Nugget

Our March 8 - International Women's Day - I led a Caladesi Island Trek with Great Old Broads for Wilderness. Our time together was extraordinary and filled with discovery as we walked this pristine eco-system.
